4th Newsletter - 16th ECPA - Poster Submissions Now Open

Nov 19, 2026

Welcome to the fourth 16th ECPA 2027 Newsletter

Poster submission opens 17 November 2026

Dear colleagues,

Poster submission for the 16th European Conference on Precision Agriculture (ECPA 2027; ispag.org/Events/ECPA/Conference), to be held in Copenhagen on 11-15 July 2027 co-organized by the ISPA, the ECPA Program Committee and the University of Arhus, opens on 17 November 2026 and stays open until 17 January 2027.

Every accepted poster will be published in an official Book of Posters with its own DOI and ISBN. Please read this newsletter carefully: what you need to submit, and when, depends on whether you are submitting a new poster abstract or your original oral submission has been moved to the poster session.

All submissions go through the conference website: ispag.org/Events/ECPA/Conference.

A Book of Posters with ISBN and DOI

All accepted posters will be published in the ECPA 2027 Book of Posters, issued with an ISBN and a DOI assigned to the book as a whole. The book will be available before the conference opens.

Each accepted poster will appear in the book as a two-page extended abstract and not as full poster.

To have the book ready on time, the deadline for extended abstracts is firm. Late submissions cannot be included in the book.

If you are submitting a new poster proposal

Submit a two-page extended abstract for the Book of Posters by 17 Jan 2027, using the official guideline on the conference website.

If your oral submission was moved to the poster session

Your work has already been reviewed and accepted as a poster, so you do not need to submit a new 500-word abstract. Submit a two-page extended abstract using the official guideline on the conference website. It will be published in the Book of Posters.

Reminder to oral presentation authors

The deadline for full paper submission is 15 December 2026, and it will not be extended. The proceedings are published before the conference opens, and that schedule leaves no room for late papers.
Please follow the author's instructions and template exactly. Papers that do not meet the formatting and length requirements are returned to the authors, which adds review rounds and delays publication for everyone. Before submitting, check that:

I. the paper uses the official template, unchanged
II. it is within the page and word limits
III. references, figures and tables follow the style in the instructions
IV. The international system of units is correctly used
V. all co-authors and affiliations are complete and correct
