15th ICPA Postponed

Thank you for your patience as the ISPA Board reviewed our options for the 15h ICPA.

The Board has decided to postpone the 15h ICPA until June 26-29, 2022. The conference will take place at the same location, Minneapolis Marriott City Center, Minneapolis, Minnesota, USA. The Society would like to acknowledge the flexibility shown by the Marriott at this difficult time.

If you have pre-registered for the conference, a refund will be issued soon.

While we will not be holding the conference this year, a number of activities are ongoing.

First, the election of officers will proceed. Nominations for the Board positions will remain open through June 8, 2020. More about elections and nomination procedures will be emailed to members.

Second, the Pierre C. Robert Scientist Awards will be presented this summer. The nomination process and forms for the Young Scientist and Senior Scientist awards are available through the website. More information on this will be distributed in the coming week. We encourage members to nominate deserving colleagues. Note that the nominator and nominee must be current members of ISPA, so be sure to renew your membership! Please submit nominations by June 8, 2020.

Third, the board is presently discussing options to give authors an opportunity to present their work remotely through webinar, electronic poster or similar means.

Please let me know if you have any questions about the conference.
