ISPA Board of Directors Elections

Please consider nominating yourself or a colleague to join the dynamic ISPA international Board of Directors. Contact past-president@ispag.org.

The Board consists of elected officers (President, President-Elect, Immediate Past-President, Secretary and Treasurer). The President-Elect automatically moves into the President seat after two years. Candidates for officers will be nominated by the ISPA Board of Directors and elected by the society members.

Being part of the ISPA Board gives an opportunity to contribute distinctively to precision agriculture development around the world. Representatives of all countries and interests are welcome, particularly women.

Precision Agriculture Definition

Precision Agriculture is a management strategy that gathers, processes and analyzes temporal, spatial and individual plant and animal data and combines it with other information to support management decisions according to estimated variability for improved resource use efficiency, productivity, quality, profitability and sustainability of agricultural production.

The International Society of Precision Agriculture (ISPA) is a non-profit professional scientific organization.
The mission of ISPA is to advance the science of precision agriculture globally.
